Otherwise Productions presents a touching story about the truth of Canadian immigration, The Saddest Girl in the World.

Vancouver, BC – August 26th -30th

Otherwise Productions is proud to present a human story that illuminates the truth about Canadian immigration.

Described by audience members as, “delightful” and “beautiful”, The Saddest Girl in the World exposes Natya’s struggle to forget a bloody past and fight for survival in her new country, Canada. Natya’s one possible ally is Ava: an innocent woman she has never met, whose dreams of jewels glimmer with hope.

The Saddest Girl in the World runs from Tuesday, August 26th through Saturday August 30th at Carousel Theatre’s Studio Space on Granville Island. Order tickets now – call 604-269-0763 or visit saddestgirl.com.

MORE INFO:

This touching story about the foibles and human face of contemporary Canadian immigration is written and performed by Tina Teeninga, co-directed by Dirk VanStralen and Kathy Parsons, who also dramaturged the piece.

Otherwise Productions is proud to present a story by an up and coming playwright and actor, whose work has “vitality and theatrical instincts, combined with poetic sensibility and imagination.” (Ron Reed, Artistic Director, Pacific Theatre.)
